

CARS CRASH ON HILL, NO ONE BADLY HURT

Buick Sedan Driven by E. R. Titsworth of Near Orange Struck by Ford Coupe

BOYS NARROWLY ESCAPE

Coupe Turns Over, With Four Wheels Spinning in Air, and Occupants Roll Out

Disastrous consequences climaxed the evening of several Rushville enthusiasts at the Fayette County fair in Connersville Thursday evening, when four persons from here and three others from near Orange barely escaped serious injury in a smashup of two automobiles near Connersville on the road between that city and here, early in the evening.

A Buick six sedan, owned, and driven by E. R. Titsworth, a farmer near Orange, and occupied by his daughter, Marian, Miss Phyllis Dean, of this city and a man whose name is Grimme, farm hand with Mr. Titsworth, in passing another car, struck a Ford coupe and demolished both cars.

Birney Jackson, employee in a furniture factory here, and owner of the coupe, which he was driving, and Lester Cravens and Elbert Myers, all of this city, were going east, to Connersville and Mr. Titsworth was in the act of passing a car when Jackson came over a hill, crashing directly into the Buick.

The Ford was turned on the rear end with the four wheels in the air, and in opening the door, all three boys rolled out of it. Glass on the right side was broken, the front left wheel, which probably received most of the force of the impact, was shattered, the rear fenders were bent and broken and the top slightly damaged.

The Buick was damaged to a great extent also, but not one of the seven persons in the accident were injured, or even scratched, which was regarded as miraculous, today.

There was considerable traffic on the road last night but dust was not heavy because of the rains and as neither car was going very fast the fact that the hill obstructed the view of Titsworth was given as the only cause of the accident.

MODERN NEW FOUNDRY TO BE BUILT AT ONCE

Ground Broken Today for Erection of Dill Foundry, on Same Site as Former One

17,000 SQ. FT. FLOOR SPACE

Construction of the Dill Foundry company was started this morning on the site where the former foundry stood that was destroyed by fire May 26, and a modern, fire-proof building will be erected at once.

The new structure, according to the plans that have been approved, will surpass any foundry in this section of the state for being complete and modern in all details. The building will be 85 by 180 feet, and will contain 17,000 square feet of floor space.

The structure will be of steel and concrete. New machinery will be installed upon completion, and it will contain two electric cranes, an electric monorail for hoist, and other new equipment. One of the features of the building will be the daylight exposure, made possible by steel window sash and large quantities of glass.

The foundry manufactures the heavy equipment used by the C. E. Francis and company factory of this city, and also engages in the general foundry business. Will Dill, manager, designed the plans for the building.

THROWN INTO WINDSHIELD

Indianapolis, Aug. 21—The condition of Mrs. Jessie Meredith, 43, of Cicero, Ind., injured in an auto accident here yesterday, was reported improved today at St. Vincent's hospital. Mrs. Meredith was thrown through the windshield of her auto and badly cut when the auto crashed into a bus. Her son, Richard, 3, was only slightly hurt.

EXAMINATION AT GLENWOOD

Will be Held For Postmaster Since Office is in Third Class

An examination for postmaster has been ordered at Glenwood and all those who desire to take the examination are required to have their application on file with the proper authorities in Washington by September 16. The date for the examination has not been set.

G. B. Carr, the present postmaster, succeeded in elevating the post office to a third class office, by increasing the sales to more than $1,500 annually and the cancellations to more than $1,000.

When the class of an office changes, an examination is necessary, but the incumbent may be an applicant for reappointment without examination.

LAST RITES TODAY FOR FRANK J. HALL

Funeral Services Held This Afternoon at Raleigh For Former Lieutenant-Governor

BAR MEMORIAL IS HELD

Resolutions Adopted at Meeting of Attorneys on Account of Death of Dean of Bar

Final rites for Frank J. Hall, former lieutenant-governor of Indiana and dean of the Rush county bar, were held this afternoon at three o'clock at the Raleigh Christian church and burial took place in the church cemetery adjoining.

Rushville attorneys acted as pallbearers. The remains arrived here Thursday afternoon from the state Masonic home at Franklin, where Mr. Hall died, and were taken Thursday evening to the home of the deceased's half brother, R. J. Hall, north of Rushville.

The Rush County Bar association held a memorial meeting in the court room this morning at nine o'clock and the following sentiment was adopted in resolutions passed and ordered spread on the records of the association:

In the death of Frank J. Hall, the Rush County Bar loses a member oldest in years and time of service. Fifty six years ago, on graduation from the law school of the State University, he was admitted to the practice of his profession in this court and remained here in active practice for more than a half century.

His professional services included the branches of practice common to lawyers in agricultural districts of Indiana, and during the greater part of his career, he was always busy, and to his credit be it said that inability to pay for services and counsel never debarred anyone from his aid.

Governor Hall's activities were not limited to his chosen profession, and during nearly all his career, he was busy in public affairs of City, County, State and Nation.

In 1908, he was honored by the voters of Indiana by election as Lieutenant Governor of his native State and he discharged the great duties of his office with credit and honor. It is but justice to his memory to say that he presided over the Senate of Indiana in the General Assembly sessions of 1909 and 1911 with such marked ability and fairness that he won the encomiums alike of political associates and opponents.

Probably no person living in Rush County during its first century of existence had more acquaintances and friends or more devoted and loyal ones, and no small part of his long life was spent in loyal, generous and gratuitous service to them.

His life was marked by purity of thought as well as deed and there never fell from his lip an utterance not appropriate to the most refined and cultured society.

In the close of a life covering the longest service in the history of members of this bar, we wish to pay tribute to his character as a citizen and his services in his chosen profession.

REHEARSING FOR THE NEXT BIG SHOW

MOSCOW MAN GIVEN FINE AND SENTENCE

James Bennett, Tried in Police Court This Morning, Appeals Case to Circuit Court

FINED $150, AND 4 MONTHS

James Bennett, a farmer living in Orange township, near Moscow, was tried this morning in police court before Mayor Thomas, and found guilty of violating the liquor laws, receiving a fine of $150 and costs and a sentence of four months at the state farm.

The defendant appealed the decision to the circuit court, and appeal bond in the sum of $2,000 was provided. The case will be tried again this fall in the higher court, in an attempt to offset the verdict in police court.

According to the evidence introduced, James E. Rardin of Indianapolis, told the court that on July 24, he was in company with Mrs. Nellie Smoek, also of Indianapolis, and drove their machine to the Bennett home, where liquor was bought and drank.

He said he paid $1.25 for a half pint, and had several drinks at the Bennett home. After their visit, the machine in which they were riding was wrecked, and the arrest resulted. A portion of the liquor was introduced as evidence. Rardin and the woman are held on bond, but each testified against Bennett in the action. Several Orange township people were witnesses, and some stated that the reputation of the defendant for violating the liquor laws was bad in his vicinity.

The defense offered no evidence, and announced an appeal as soon as Mayor Thomas passed sentence.

THIRTY-FIVE NEW SCHOOL MEN

Fifty Seven Counties Retained School Superintendents

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 21—Of the ninety two county school superintendents who took office in Indiana this week for the coming year, fifty seven were reelected, it was announced today by the state department of public instruction.

The other thirty-five were serving for the first time or were going back into office after a year or more of retirement.

Twenty seven of the newly elected superintendents have college or university degrees. Twenty-four were serving as high school principals when elected.

SCHOOL PROJECT BIDS ARE OPENED

City School Board Receives This Afternoon From Many Contractors Wanting the Job

NO DECISION IS MADE

Many of Bids Have Alternate Proposals and Time Will be Required to Consider Them All

Bids were opened this afternoon by the city school board for the construction of the new vocational and physical training school building, and contractors from all over the state were here submitting proposals. The bids were taken under consideration, and no decision reached.

The firms offering bids on general construction, were as follows: Williams Construction company, Lapel, $72,165; Batesville Lumber Company, $68,440; R. W. Bauman and Company, Indianapolis $80,300; A. R. Hunnicutt, Union City $68,840; Morris M. Winship, Rushville $69,344.46; Shelby Construction Company, Shelbyville $60,798; Vahle Construction Company, New Palestine $68,900; Charles L. Saunders and Company, Portland, $72,500.

MRS. ROSIE A. NORTON DIES IN INDIANAPOLIS

FUNERAL TO BE AT EAST HILL

Mrs. Rosie A. Norton, formerly Rosie Waggoner, wife of William H. Norton, died Wednesday evening at eight o'clock at her home in Indianapolis, following only a short illness of acute indigestion. She was forty-eight years of age and formerly lived here, leaving this city about twenty-five years ago, for residence in Indianapolis.

The remains will be brought to this city for interment in East Hill cemetery, Saturday afternoon, where short services will be held at the chapel at 2 p. m. Friends are invited to attend the services.

The survivors are two children, Mary Katherine and Evaline; two sisters, Mrs. Charles Redden living south of the city and Mrs. Luella Meyers of Indianapolis; and four brothers, Louis Waggoner, living south of the city, Marion of Circleville, Braek and Elbert Waggoner of Florida; besides the husband.

NOBLET TO HEAD COMMITTEE

Hoosier Association Manager to Welcome Dixie Motorists

Indianapolis, Aug. 21—Frank Wampler, Indiana director of the Dixie Highway Association, today appointed M. E. Noblet, of Indianapolis, as general chairman of the Indiana committee which will participate in observance of the tenth anniversary of the highway in October.

Noblet is secretary-manager of the Hoosier state automobile association.

Noblet immediately began making local arrangements for the motorcade which will be formed at Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., northern extremity of the highway, and will proceed to Miami, Fla.

The party is expected to pass through Indiana about October 12.

BRECKENRIDGE SELECTED

Warsaw, Ind., Aug. 21—The board of directors of the Indiana Assembly and Bible conference at a meeting last night reelected Dr. J. C. Breckenridge as general secretary and presiding officer.

PICNIC FOR SIX COUNTIES

Klan Will Hold Outing at J. O. Hendricks Camp Sunday

Greensburg, Ind., Aug. 20—The J. O. Hendricks camp between St. Paul and St. Omer will be the scene of a big Klan picnic next Sunday, Aug. 23. Six counties—Decatur, Shelby, Rush, Bartholomew, Brown and Johnson—will participate.

It will be an all-day picnic with services in the morning and speakers in the afternoon. Plenty of music and amusement of different kinds will be provided for old and young.

All members of the Klan and their families are invited to bring their dinners and come to the outing and enjoy a real day, as the committee is preparing to entertain all.

BERT MORGAN IS NOT REAPPOINTED

Federal Prohibition Director of Indiana, is Sidetracked in the Reorganization

SUCCEEDED BY B. W. EWING

List of 24 Administrators to Have Charge in Law Enforcement, is Announced Today

Washington, Aug. 21—On account of a vast demand for bootleg liquor in the United States, and a tremendously organized and unscrupulous industry to supply it, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, Lincoln C. Andrews today appointed his twenty four administrators and sent them out to dry up the nation.

Here is what Andrews intends to do to enforce prohibition under the new reorganized scheme as outlined in his instructions to his new chiefs:

The government will seek treaties and negotiations to make smuggling more difficult.

The coast guard will form the first line on our sea fronts and take the responsibility for preventing operations along the shore.

Distilleries and breweries which are found to be sources of bootleg trade, will be proceeded against as nuisances and will be closed.

Appointment No Surprise

Indianapolis, Aug. 21—Little surprise was caused in political circles here today when official word came from Washington that Bert C. Morgan, federal prohibition director for Indiana, was sidetracked in the reorganization of the prohibition department.

It had been known for several days that Morgan was not slated for appointments as director of the district including Indiana and parts of Illinois and Wisconsin.

B. W. Ewing, of Ohio, was named acting director of the district with headquarters in Chicago.

Morgan lacked the necessary backing of Senator Watson to secure the position, it was said.

He was supported by Harry New, postmaster general, but New was not in position to put him over.

It was considered possible that Morgan may be made one of the deputy administrators to supervise dry work in the state.

Morgan, back from a conference with Lincoln C. Andrews, new dry chief in Washington, refused to discuss this possibility.

Morgan denied that he had been seeking a state position, although reports were current about the statehouse that he was angling for appointment as secretary of the state teachers' pension fund, a post now held by Estes Duncan.

New Chief, Former Preacher

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 21—B. E. Ewing, new acting head of the Illinois-Indiana prohibition district, has been head of the old Illinois state district for the last month. Before that time he served in the capacity of field agent.

Ewing has been an ardent "dry" all his life. He gave up his pulpit as a Methodist minister in Hillsboro, Ohio, to enter the service of the prohibition department, several years ago.

TAXABLES LOSE OVER 2 MILLION

Addition of Assessments by State Board Brings Total for County up to $50,623,990

TOTAL OF $4,932,845 ADDED

Appraised Value in Every Taxing Unit Shows Decrease Except Rushville City and Ripley Tp.

The assessed value of all taxable property in Rush county decreased $2,099,540 this year.

This fact was determined today following receipt of assessments fixed by the state board of tax commissions, which, added to assessments made by local taxing officials, made the total taxable value of property in the county $50,623,990.

Last year the appraised value of Rush county property, on which taxes are being paid this year, was $52,723,530.

The state tax board added $4,932,845 to the tax duplicate, with assessments of banks, trust companies, building and loan companies, railroads, interurban lines, telephone and telegraph companies and other public utilities.

Every taxing unit in the county lost, with the exception of Ripley township and Rushville city, which showed slight gains in assessments.

The appraised value of Rushville taxables for next year is $7,392,445, compared with $7,330,350, an increase of $62,095.

The gain in Ripley township amounted to $72,410, with the combined assessments for next year amounting to $3,367,410, compared with $3,395,000 for this year.

The assessed value of all classes of property in the other taxing units of the county for next year, in which there was a slight loss, compared with this year, is as follows:

| | |
|---------------|-------------|
| Carthage | $1,061,265 |
| Poser Tp | 3,969,265 |
| Walker Tp | 3,474,095 |
| Orange Tp | 3,181,965 |
| Anderson Tp | 4,165,545 |
| Rushville Tp | 4,938,250 |
| Jackson Tp | 2,392,170 |
| Center Tp | 3,689,530 |
| Washington Tp | 3,094,890 |
| Union Tp | 3,877,100 |
| Glenwood | 118,110 |
| Noble Tp | 3,124,325 |
| Richland Tp | 2,477,625 |

Some conception of the amount of taxes paid by the public utilities and the banks may be obtained when it is understood that they are assessed in the county $4,932,845.

The banks of the county were given a combined taxable valuation of $1,082,760; the railroads and interurban lines, $3,371,875; the gas

NO REGISTRATION IS NEEDED IN THIS CITY

Russell Titsworth, Republican City Chairman, Receives Opinion From State Board

NOT FOR 4TH CLASS CITIES

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, Aug. 21—Registration of voters before the municipal elections in November is required only in cities of the first and second class, according to an opinion of Gaylord Morton, Republican member of the state board of election commissioners.

The opinion was given in answer to an inquiry from Russell Titsworth, Republican city chairman at Rushville.

W. W. Spencer, Democratic member of the board, concurred in Morton's opinion.

The general opinion prevailed here that the new law enacted by the 1925 general assembly, required a registration of voters for the November city election, excepting those who had voted in the primary, who were automatically registered for the election. The interpretation sets out that the city will not be to the additional expense this fall of obtaining a registration, which will be required only of cities of the first and second classes.

WILL GET DIPLOMA
AT THE DAIRY SHOW

Owners of Herds of Five or More Averaging 300 Pounds or More Butter Fat to be Rewarded

G. A. Williams is in Charge

Last Year 2,374 Cow Testing Associations in United States Were Awarded Diplomas

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 20.—G. A. Williams, in charge of cow testing association work in Indiana, today was requested to report the names and addresses of all cow testing association members in the state whose herds of five or more cows averaged 300 pounds or more of butterfat per cow per year.

These members will be placed on the national "300 pound honor roll" and will be awarded a diploma at the national dairy exposition in Indianapolis October 10 to 17.

Last year 2,374 cow testing association members throughout the United States were awarded diplomas in recognition of their work, of which 56 were Indiana dairymen.

Lake county led in the number of members on the 1924 honor roll with 10, followed by Vanderburgh county with 9.

Other counties represented were: Washington, seven; Hamilton six; Clark, Marshall, Porter and Warrick five each; Scott, two; and Fulton and Pulaski, one each.

The average yearly production of dairy cows on Indiana farm is low, from 150 to 175 pounds of butterfat, according to L. H. Fairchild, associate professor in dairying at Purdue university.

Through intensive studies made by the United States bureau of dairying, it has been found that a cow producing 150 pounds of butterfat in one year yields an income of $20 over the cost of feed.

A cow producing 300 pounds returns an income of $74 over feed cost.

COLD WAVE SWEEPS
MIDDLEWEST STATES

Temperatures Dropped During the Night, After Mercury Had Reached High Marks

BATHING BEACHES DESERTED

Chicago, Aug. 21.—An unseasonable wave of cold air swept over the middlewest today.

Temperatures dropped suddenly after reaching new high marks in several states during the early part of the week.

Top coats and sweaters were worn with comfort in Chicago. Bathing beaches, swarming with heat sufferers two days ago, were deserted. Thermometers registered 50 degrees.

At St. Louis where the last three days have been the hottest in three years, the mercury dropped almost 10 degrees in a few hours.

Oklahoma had a small snow storm.

Smoke curled from hundreds of chimneys in Milwaukee as housewives set fire to summer's accumulation of rubbish in their furnaces in an attempt to take the chill off their homes.

FALLS UNDER TRAIN

Anderson, Ind., Aug. 21.—The body of Frank Berry, 23, brakeman on the Pennsylvania railroad, was to be taken to his home in Richmond today for burial. Berry was fatally injured when he fell beneath a train. He died in a hospital here last night.

FILES SUIT TO VACATE
HINER BUS LINE PERMIT

Charles L. Henry, Receiver for I. & C. Traction Service Company, today filed a suit in the circuit court here against the Public Service Commission of Indiana asking that an order be made vacating the permit of the Hiner Bus Lines to operate as common carriers of people between this city and Indianapolis.

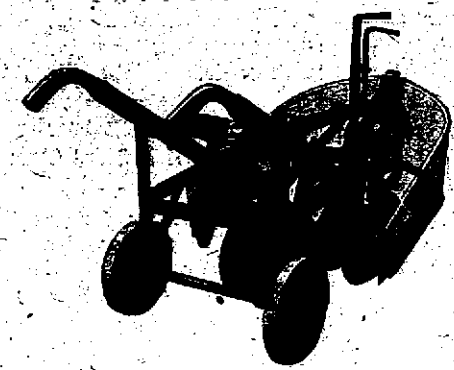

NO DEMAND FOR SERVICE

Greensburg, Ind., Aug. 21.—Charles L. Henry, receiver of the Indianapolis & Cincinnati Traction Company, today filed a suit in the circuit court here against the Public Service Commission of Indiana asking that an order be made vacating the permit of the Hiner Bus Lines to operate as common carriers of people between this city and Indianapolis.

The permit was given the Hiner Company on May 20, following a hearing before the commission, in which the representatives of the I. & C. Traction Company produced evidence to show that there was no necessity as contemplated by the recent act of the legislature, that there was no demand for this service, and that the Big Four railway company with two accommodation trains each way besides a number of other trains and the traction company with thirteen trains each way, gave ample transportation.

In his complaint the receiver for the I. & C. Traction Co., shows the court the figures showing that the people carried by the Hiner bus lines did not justify the service and that the number of people carried by the interurban line had decreased each year so that it could not be operated without loss and that this additional transportation would make conditions even worse.

Clinton—When a traction pole fell it caught a new roadster belonging to Harold Lyday. The automobile was badly dented.

CORN-TURNERS
RIDING CULTIVATORS

THE Hoosier Corn Turner is indispensable in sowing wheat in standing corn. Stalks, loose ears and pumpkins are put aside without injury and the drill is steadied and kept off the corn rows. This implement will pay for itself in labor and corn saved in two days. Thousands in use.

CULTIVATE before sowing wheat with the Hoosier One Row Riding Cultivator. Mulches the soil, kills weeds, makes a perfect seed bed. Insures a crop and tests show increases in yield five to ten bushels per acre.

for creating the best puzzles on the above design according to the following rules

Just look this design over. It is just as easy to work as it appears. However, before you start to work read carefully the Contest Rules at the bottom of this advertisement. We would suggest you make a list of all words describing or pertaining to Hosiery before you start. Then fill in with just as many of these words as you possibly can. Send in as many solutions as you desire — the more you send the more chances you have of winning a prize.

Iron Clad Hosiery

Contest Rules

No. 1—The IRON CLAD Cross Word Puzzle School Sale Contest is open to everyone, except IRON CLAD Dealers and Cooper Wells & Company and the employees and families of both.

No. 2—A total of 96 CASH Prizes will be awarded. Divided as follows: 1st Prize, $100.00; 2nd Prize, $75.00; 3rd Prize, $50.00; 4th Prize, $35.00; 5th Prize, $25.00; and 6th Prize, $15.00. The next five best solutions will each receive $10.00; the next ten best solutions will each receive $5.00; the next twenty-five best solutions each will receive $2.00; and the next fifty will be awarded $1.00 each. The best solution sent through THIS STORE will receive a box of IRON CLAD Hosiery for men, women or children, according to the contestant. The next five best solutions will each receive a pair of IRON CLADS, their choice of our stock.

No. 3—No solutions will be eligible except those worked out on the design furnished in connection with this contest.

No. 4—To be a Prize Winner a solution must contain the three words "IRON CLAD HOSE" at least once. Adjectives and other words used in connection with Hosiery should be used wherever possible, as awards will be made in greater part upon that basis. As many solutions may be sent in as you desire.

No. 5—Your solutions should be written in a neat and legible manner.

No. 6—The design MUST BE FILLED IN with your words. These words must also be numbered and listed below with the definition for each. Use a plain white sheet for this purpose, pasting the design in the upper RIGHT HAND CORNER of the page. Write or print neatly, in the upper left hand corner, your name and address, and our name and address as

See Our Window Display and Showing In Our Hosiery Section

Knecht's
O. P. C. H.

the merchant through whom your solutions are sent. Use ONLY ONE SIDE OF A SHEET.

No. 7—All puzzles submitted become the property of Cooper Wells & Co., and will not be returned to the owners. It is understood these solutions may be used in any manner Cooper Wells & Co. may see fit without remuneration other than the prize awards.

No. 8—The judges of this contest have been selected by Cooper Wells & Co., and are prominent citizens of St. Joseph, Michigan. They are: Dr. L. A. King, Mayor of St. Joseph; E. P. Clarke, Supt. of Schools, and E. A. Gast, Postmaster.

No. 9—The IRON CLAD Cross Word Puzzle Contest will officially open on Saturday, August 22nd and close when this store closes Saturday, September 5th. All solutions must be turned in to us by that time.

No. 10—Only solutions sent through our store—your local IRON CLAD dealer—will be eligible for the IRON CLAD Cross Word Puzzle Contest.

No. 11—All prize awards will be announced through our store in about four or six weeks. Watch for our announcements as to the exact date. The winning answers will be upon display at that time.

COMMISSION ORDERS
BUS ACCIDENT PROBE

Public Service Commission Will Investigate Collision of Passenger Bus and Ice Cream Truck

FOUR SERIOUSLY INJURED

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 21.—(U.P.)—Order for an investigation of the bus accident in which four persons were seriously injured and a score slightly hurt here yesterday was expected to be issued by the state public service commission.

The accident occurred when a bus of the Inter-City Safety Coach Company struck an ice cream truck. The four seriously injured were reported improving today at hospitals where they were taken after the accident.

John W. McCardle, chairman of the public service commission said it was not the practice of the commission to investigate utility accidents unless fatalities occur.

In this case, he declared, the accident was serious enough to warrant a probe to fix responsibility.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 21, 1925

God is Gracious:—Thou art a God ready to pardon, gracious and merciful, slow to anger, and of great kindness. Nehemiah 9:17.

Prayer:—We rejoice, O God, to know that like as a father pitieth his children, so the Lord pitieth them that fear Him.

Pleasure

What most people seek is pleasure—not work. And in the seeking, they generally derive more fun than in its actual realization.

Pleasures differ just as all human tastes do. A man with a wide expanse of brow can live happily all his life on literature, music and art, but the ordinary human wants a little fun now and then.

There are several million varieties of pleasure, and most of them are harder on the system than work. If men had to walk in the hot sun all day pursuing the elusive golf ball, the industrial commission would look into their case.

A man will spend valuable time and a large sum of money trying to shim up a mountain peak several thousand feet high because he thinks it is pleasure. But if the elevator broke and he had to walk several flights of stairs, he would raise a terrible fuss.

Pleasure is anything you don't have to do. Baseball is the greatest sport in the world until you get good enough to draw a salary for playing, and then it is work.

Driving an automobile is pleasure and some spend a nice pile of money each year for the privilege, but any taxi driver will tell you his job is one of the worst in the world.

Some men find pleasure in a quiet game of checkers and others in reading the newest book on science. Other men can not enjoy themselves unless they have money on a game of chance and others think it is sport to watch two big huskies beat each other's faces into a hamburger steak.

Some men get their fun trying to swim the English channel and others by batting an innocent looking cloth-covered rubber ball back and forth over a net.

Men's tastes in pleasure have largely determined the progress of the world. War was once a leading amusement and watching Christian martyrs devoured by wild beasts was regarded as a noble pastime.

We are a bit more particular now about our amusements, but high salaried movie actors still amuse us with stories that never happened and probably never will, and when a funmaker turns a gasoline tank into a 60-horsepower car and goes like a juggernaut through town at a mile a minute, no one has the heart to lynch him because it is his pleasure.

When we can get our pleasure out of driving rascals out of office, swatting the law breakers and inflicting awful surprises on the suffering in the shape of good fellowship, you may be assured that the millennium has arrived.

New Order not Desirable

The doctrine of the "new economic order" is being preached far and wide these days, but it is doubtful

FOR HOME AND STABLE

The extraordinary Borozone treatment for flesh wounds, cuts, sores, galls, burns and scalds is just as effective in the stable as in the home. Hargrove and Brown if any two of the persons who are engaged in the propaganda of radicalism can agree on what they mean by the "new order."

There never has been a time in the history of the world when conditions were ideal, and it is doubtful if that time ever will come. There are undesirable conditions to be overcome, but experience shows that enduring progress comes through evolution, not revolution.

Teachers of communism prate a great deal about the benefits that will come to the common people through adoption of their creed, but they are careful to avoid mention of Russia, which is the one great country in which the bolshevist system is in control. The results do not speak well for it.

There are morals in economics, and any system that includes the confiscation, or appropriation without compensation, of the property of others is so opposed to a sense of right that it cannot be entertained by persons who have the least spark of honesty in their makeup.

Mankind has made a great progress in the last century, and there is reason to believe that greater achievements lie just ahead. They will not come about by destroying what has already been built and substituting an uncertain and vague thing called the "new order."

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO TODAY

From Daily Republican
Monday, August 22, 1910

A daring piece of thieving was done at the home of Claude Camburn in North Main street yesterday morning, while Mr. and Mrs. Camburn and their house guest, Mrs. Charles Slaughter of St. Louis, were out to breakfast. The back door had been unlocked early in the morning by Mr. Camburn and he thought that he relocked it but evidence points to the fact that he did not, because no other means of entry, was taken to the house by the burglars or burglar as far as can be learned.

Miss Lucille Linn, whose music on the piano at the Star Grand Theatre and air dome, has pleased scores of people, has given in her resignation, which will take effect on September 10. Miss Linn has an innate musical ability.

John Boyd, the local fine Jersey raiser, is again taking the money at the fairs this year on account of the excellent qualities of his herd.

Mrs. Guinn Haydon of San Angelo, Texas, who has been visiting her husband's parents in Nealon, Ky., will return to this city this week to extend her visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rich Wilson at their home in North Main street, before returning to her home in the South.

The Misses Orma Jims and Mary Amos and Mrs. Luella Crumacker went to Bloomington today to attend the national convention of the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority which begins tomorrow and continues for a week.

Robert and Ben Humes, Royden Cox and Louis Manzy made an automobile trip to Richmond yesterday.

Miss Ella Madden and sister, Mrs. Mary Lavelle of Anderson, who is visiting here, were guests of friends in Arlington Sunday afternoon.

Will Andrews and Guy Long, the two Arlington young men who contracted typhoid fever, while working on the C. H. & D. railroad and who have not been expected to live, are much improved and the attending physicians now have hopes for their recovery.

Mrs. Joe Walker and son of West Virginia and Mrs. Ella Sanders and daughter of Kansas City, Mo., returned to Connersville yesterday, where they are visiting, after a short stay with Miss Bertha Hungerford in North Perkins street.

Prof. J. L. Shauck, principal of the Arlington schools, has returned from Boston, Mass., where he has been attending the sessions of the National Educators' Association.

It was once thought that the day of the excursion was over, but Will Alexander and John Quincy Thomas can not see it that way. On last Saturday night they personally conducted an excursion to Chicago by way of Michigan City. There were three car loads of people who went from Rushville, being in all about two hundred and fifty.

NO CONNECTION WITH MURDER

South Bend, Ind., Aug. 21—Clarence Gill of Mishawaka, was free today after spending two days in jail for questioning in connection with the death of Frank Sawyer, auto salesman. Authorities were convinced he had no connection with the death of Sawyer, Gill's curiosity about the case led to his arrest.

Stewart's Washington Letter

BY CHARLES P. STEWART
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON—When President Coolidge succeeded himself last March everybody thought he was going to make his official family all over, to suit his own ideas of what a cabinet ought to be. Up to that time he avowedly had been running things, as nearly as he could, the way President Harding had started them.

On his own election to the presidency, however, he generally was taken for granted he'd want advisors chosen by himself. Then Bascom Sloop retired in Everett Sanders' favor, as presidential private secretary, and it was assumed the shakeup had begun.

YET a glance down the list of cabinet members shows thus far not a single change the president could have avoided making. He didn't want to retire Attorney General Daugherty or Secretary of the Navy Denby. Their resignations were forced on him as much as they were forced on the two officials themselves, by pressure of public opinion.

Secretary of Agriculture Wallace died. Secretary of State Hughes quit, much against the chief executive's wishes, to make some money practicing law. The other six department heads are the ones President Harding picked originally.

SECRETARY MELLON, for one, is about boss of the treasury. He asks nobody's advice. He dictates and his dictation is gratefully received. President Coolidge's utterances on money matters are much admired in financial circles. Mellon's their author, so goosies say.

NOBODY tells Secretary Hoover anything about the commerce department. He tells others. For instance, in the midst of all that talk about the president's "firm policy" in the row between the coal operators and miners, this bit of information leaked out—in reality the president had no such thing as a "coal policy"—he didn't know what he'd do in the event of a strike—he'd do whatever Hoover told him to do. "More business in government and less government in business" is of Hooveresque origin, too.

Summer is passing. Lots of elbows are clean already.

The nicest thing about August is they have no strawberries to leave out of strawberry shortcakes.

WANTS UNIFORM LEVY

Richmond, Ind., Aug. 21—Dr. Henry N. Sherwood, state superintendent of public instruction, advocated a uniform school fund tax levy in an address before the Wayne county teachers' institute. Dr. Sherwood said the uniform levy would not result in abolition of the office of township trustee.

ALARM CLOCK AS WEAPON

Hammond, Ind., Aug. 21—An alarm clock hurled by Mrs. M. Williams, saleswoman in a cloak store, routed a bandit who attempted a daylight robbery of the store. The alarm clock struck the bandit in the face and he ran with blood streaming from deep cuts made by the missile.

WEATHER MAY HARM OPENING OF SERIES

Misty Rain Threatens First Game Between New York Giants and Pittsburgh Pirates

TWO SCHEDULED FOR TODAY

Pirates Increase Lead to Three Full Games Over 1924 Champions
Thursday

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(U. I. Staff Correspondent)
New York, Aug. 21—Bad weather today threatened the opening of the important series between the Pittsburgh Pirates and the New York Giants upon which the National League pennant may hang.

A misty rain was falling and low hanging clouds promised no break in the weather.

Officials of the club said they would wait until noon before they decided to postpone the two games that were to open the five game series scheduled over the week end.
Monday is an off day and today's doubleheader may be played then if the weather interferes today.

The Pirates increased their lead to three full games over the 1924 champions yesterday when Kiki Cuyler blasted a home run and beat the Brooklyn Robins 2 to 1. The Giants pulled a two run rally in the ninth inning but failed to overcome a lead and the Cubs dropped them 5 to 3.

John McGraw, manager of the Giants has been manipulating his pitching staff during the last week with the purpose of having all his able defensive strength for the series. Kent Greenfield, the sensational youngster, Big Jack Scott, Zeke Burns and Art Nehf, the veteran southpaw, who used to be poison to the Pirates are ready to work in turn.

The Pirates also have all their pitching strength ready for duty.
Eddie Yde, one of the best southpaws in the league, Vic Aldridge and Johnny Morrison have been pointed for the series by Manager McKee-nie as he realizes that the Pirates may be made or broken in this series.

Three victories out of the five games would give the Pirates a lead of four games and it would instill so much confidence in the players that it is extremely improbable the Giants ever could catch them. On the other hand, the Giants would have to sweep the series to take the lead by one scant game.

SPORT CHATTER

Chicago—Owen Bush, manager of the Indianapolis club of the American Association, will be suspended for six months for using abusive language to umpires if another offense is reported this season. W. H.
Sexton, president of the National Association of Minor Leagues with headquarters here, announced.

Lake Geneva, Wis.—The Buckstaff and Vandynes sloop, "Faith," of Oshkosh Wis., won the last event yesterday of the Inland Yachting association's Class A races. "King Fisher," sloop of Eugene C. Glueck Minneapolis, prize winner last year, was capsize when its trailing rope caught in the anchor of a cat boat.

Gris Nez, France, Aug. 21—Wavering in her original decision against trying a new battle with the defiant tides of the English channel this season, Miss Gertrude Ederle is considering today whether she should join Lillian Harrison, Anglo-Argentinian, within a fortnight in another test.

Miss Harrison has virtually decided to make her third attempt at the channel on August 31 or September 1, and Miss Ederle is tempted to jump off at the same time.

Chicago—Mickey Walker and his manager, Jack Kearns, arrived here today for the welterweight champion's bout with Sailor Freidman at East Chicago Monday night. Walker's last fight scheduled at East Chicago failed to materialize when his opponent disappeared.

Tilden and "Conqueror"

Fail in Big Leagues

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)
New York, Aug. 20—Even with the more advanced coaching systems that are being established in the big colleges, the college player does not seem to be any better equipped for a quick trip to the major leagues than he was years ago.

With such a demand for good young players managers are inclined to have more patience with a college player and give him a better chance than he would have done in the days when ball players were cheap and when college boys were known as rah-rah.

Yet under auspicious conditions, very few of the players who have the advantage of four years' instruction and coaching from a former major league player are able to hold down a big league job without going through the mill in the bushes.

The outstanding college players of the year were the two Holy Cross stars, Owen Carroll and Gautreau.
Eddie Farrell, the Pennsylvania shortstop and Charley Caldwell, the Princeton football and baseball star.
Carroll was ranked as the greatest college pitcher ever developed.
He lost only two games in the four years that he pitched for Holy Cross and many major league scouts said if there ever was a pitcher that was ready for fast company, it was Carroll.

But he failed to make good with the Detroit Tigers, a big scoring club that should be comparatively easy to pitch for. Carroll said it was just the difference between the amateur game and the professional game and that he had been bothered by the signal system. He has a chance to make good eventually, however, unless he becomes discouraged.

Gautreau, second baseman, was rated next to Carroll as the big star at Holy Cross. He went to the Philadelphia Athletics when he graduated but he had very little chance because Connie Mack could not afford to experiment in a hot pennant race with a minor leaguer on first base and a college player on second. Waivers were asked on him and the Boston Braves claimed him. He has been used regularly and Dave Baneroff thinks he will develop into a major league star.

Eddie Farrell had all the major league scouts looking over him for two years when he was playing with the Pennsylvania University nine and the New York Giants landed him. He reported to the club just when it was almost wrecked by injuries and he was ordered to play shortstop his first day with the club and he has been used more or less as a regular ever since. He is a capable fielder but he can't hit up to McGraw's demands.

Caldwell also was recommended by several major league coaches and the New York Yankees signed him.
Miller Huggins took a few looks at him and said he wouldn't do. He turned out to be a rather expensive experiment as he cracked Wally Pipp on the head with a wild pitch during batting practice one day and sent him to the hospital for two weeks.

KEEPING ONE EYE ON THE SCORE BOARD

Yesterday's Hero: Kiki Cuyler, Pittsburgh's star outfielder, rapped a homer in the sixth and delivered the run that beat the Robins 2 to 1.

Jack Bentley knocked in three runs for the Giants but he pitched wobbly in the pinches and the Cubs fopped him 5 to 3.

Goose Goslin singled in the twelfth and drove Sam Rice across with the run that gave the Senators a 1 to 0 victory over the Indians and put them back in first place.

Harry Rice's homer and Sisler's triple with one on in the ninth scored two runs and enabled the Browns to beat the Athletics 7 to 6.

Ted Blankenship won his eighth consecutive game for the White Sox when he beat the Red Sox 11 to 7.

Rixey tightened up after a loose start and pitched the Reds to an 8 to 4 victory over the Phillies.

The Braves swept the series of four games by beating the Cardinals 6 to 3.

Rains yesterday halted the tournament but today the first match of the doubles will be staged when Wilson and Drago favorites in the tournament, take the court against Newkirk and Tittsworth. This match is expected to be very interesting and may draw several spectators, who have so far left the matches unwit-nessed.

Here is a novel idea in neckties. A wide velvet ribbon follows the oval cut and outlines the opening in front before it ties in a loose knot. Paris loves these little touches, and is putting them on her loveliest creations.

Clark of Carthage were among the guests who attended the wedding of Miss Marjorie Clark of Indianapolis, to Forrest D. Ragsdale, also of Indianapolis. The wedding was performed at 4:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, Miss Alice Piersol of Jamestown, Ind., and county music instructor here last year, was the soloist at the ceremony.

Approximately three hundred telephone operators and their families of Central Indiana enjoyed a picnic Wednesday at McCoy Lake near Greensburg. Rushville had the largest delegation of any city, twenty-two being present from here. A picnic dinner was the feature of the noon hour and a pleasant afternoon was spent in swimming, boating and other amusements.

Little Grayson Jay Mahin entertained about thirty of his little friends this afternoon with a birthday party, the occasion being in celebration of his ninth birthday. The children enjoyed juvenile games and contests and dainty refreshments were served. Mrs. Wilbur Mahin, his mother, was assisted in the serving of refreshments by Mrs. Joseph Cotton of Manila and Mrs. Alpha Hurst. The color scheme of pink and white was carried out in the refreshments and decoration of the home.

Mrs. Paul Stewart was a charming hostess Thursday evening when she entertained the members of her Sunday school class of the Main Street Christian church, with a prettily appointed dinner party, honoring Miss Berla Cato, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. B. F. Cato, who have recently moved here. A delicious three course dinner was served and the appointments for the tables were carried out in bouquets of garden flowers. Following the dinner the guests enjoyed a theatre party.

EQUAL SUFFRAGE IS 5 YEARS OLD

Indiana League of Women Voters Will Celebrate Next Wednesday, For Fifth Anniversary

GIVEN BALLOT IN 1920

Several Leagues are Planning For "Birthday Parties" to Honor The Occasion

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 21—(AP)—Preparations are being made by the Indiana League of Women Voters for a celebration next Wednesday of the fifth anniversary of woman suffrage in the United States.

The constitutional amendment giving women equal right with men to the ballot was formally proclaimed by Bainbridge Colby, secretary of state, on August 26, 1920.

Although August is the vacation month for activities of most of the leagues in Indiana, Mrs. B. B. White, state president, is asking as many leagues as possible to take official observance of the anniversary.

Several leagues are planning birthday picnics or porch parties for next Wednesday and others will observe the event at a later date.

An anniversary bulletin on "What Has the Indiana League of Women Voters Done Since 1920?" is being mailed to presidents of all branches of the Indiana league.

The bulletin recites activities of the league during the five year period, saying the league has stimulated women to go into political parties as partners with men while at the same time keeping itself as an organization strictly non-partisan.

The league, it is pointed out, has given reliable information about voting methods, candidates and issues, through ballot marking classes, publication of all party platform, speakers sent out through the speakers' bureau, and through forums and questionnaires.

Citizenship training school with comparative courses in political education have been conducted at various intervals in different parts of the state, particularly at the Purdue, Notre Dame and Indiana university extension classes.

The league instituted and was responsible for passage of an amendment to the state constitution making it necessary for an alien to become a citizen of the state before being allowed to vote.

The Equal Guardianship Law, giving the mother equal rights with the father to the custody of a legitimate unmarried minor child was made possible by the initiative of the league.

Numerous other achievements of the league are mentioned in the bulletin.

THREW BABY IN WATER

Indianapolis, Aug. 21—A charge of assault and battery with intent to kill was filed today against John Murray, who threw his three months old baby in a tub of water because it cried. The mother rescued the child, face downward in the water. Murray fled before police arrived.

Alexandria—A coupe belonging to Ernest Zell was found in Sheridan. Tires, lights, mirrors and all other removable accessories were gone.

SCHOOL PROJECT

BIDS ARE OPENED

Sanborn Electric Company, Indianapolis $1,669; E. F. Fowler, Frankfort, $1,563; Lucas-Tingle Company, Connersville $979.

The list of the bids submitted above consisted of the basic bids, and several alternatives were submitted by the contractors, in which deductions or additions may be made to the original bids.

On account of the big task of going over the bids, the school board was in no position today to take action, and will have the bids under consideration and examination, before reaching a decision.

The proposed cost of the new building is expected to be approximately $75,000, which was the original goal. Of this amount the school board is issuing $40,000 in bonds, and $25,000 is being loaned by Rushville people without interest. The additional $10,000 is pledged by the high school in the sale of season tickets.

The first appeal for the one-fourth payment on the non-interest bearing loans was made this week and the first day a check showed $2,000 turned in, which is regarded as a good showing, and the rest of the $6,000 as the first payment is expected to be made by the first of September.

Exchange and apron sale by St. Mary's Altar Society at Tyner's Tailor Shop, Saturday Aug. 22.

Two Killed and Dozen Injured, in a Series of Mishaps That Happened Thursday

TRUCKS FIGURE IN ACCIDENTS

Kokomo, Ind., Aug. 21—Two persons were dead, one was seriously hurt and a dozen others were suffering with minor injuries today from a series of auto accidents near here yesterday.

Mrs. M. V. Grisso, 50, of Laketon, Ind., was killed, and Miss Sarah King, 40, of Los Angeles, died from injuries received when their auto collided with a large truck.

Rev. M. V. Grisso, driver of the auto, and John Jennings, of Vicksburg, Mich., driver of the truck, were slightly hurt.

Robert Haskett, 40, a Tipton county farmer, was probably fatally hurt when his auto was struck by a Nickle Plate passenger train.

Several others were injured when autos skidded on slippery roads during a rain storm.

URGES COOPERATION OF THE TAXPAYERS

State Taxpayers Association Wants to Avoid Unnecessary or Extravagant Expenditures

BUDGETS MADE IN SEPTEMBER

Much of Success of Last Year's Efforts Due to Earnest Work of Many County Groups

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 21—Earnest cooperation of taxpayers with taxing officials in every local unit in Indiana to avoid unnecessary or extravagant public expenditures in 1926 was urged in a statement issued today by the Indiana Taxpayers Association, of which Harry Miesse is secretary. Mr. Miesse called attention to the fact that budgets and levies for 1926 are adopted in each taxing unit of the state in September, after public hearings, and that the law enables taxpayers to protest against unjustifiably high budgets.

"Much of the success of last year's effort is due to the earnest and sympathetic work of many county groups and organizations," Mr. Miesse said. "I have reason to expect, from the widespread interest in this year's levies, that more organized cooperation with the taxing officials will appear in practically every county of the state. The county committees of the Indiana Farm Bureau Federation have performed a notable service and they may be expected to lend important influence this year toward keeping the levies down. The same thing applies to local organizations of the Grange, Chambers of Commerce and local civic clubs and societies also have indicated an intention to help make next year's budgets and rates. Such cooperation will assure even more important reductions than were recorded a year ago."

The statement directs attention also to the increased revenue that will be derived by counties from the state gasoline tax, and to the fact that for the first time, under the 1925 amendment to the gasoline tax law, cities and towns will share in that revenue. The increased income from this source should be taken into consideration, it is declared, in fixing county levies for road purposes and municipal levies for streets. It is expected that in some counties and cities material reductions of levy will result from the added revenue of the gasoline tax. The reduction can be effected in every city and county in the state, in the opinion of the taxpayers association, if local citizens will urge their taxing officials to make a cut in local levies commensurate with the amount of money to be received from the gasoline fund.

Close estimates by L. S. Bowman, auditor of state, indicate that the counties will get about one-half more revenue than they received under the 2 cent gasoline tax law, which provided for the distribution of $1,000,000 annually to the counties. Under the 1925 law, which increased the tax to 3 cents per gallon, 2 cents goes to the state highway commission and 1 cent is divided between counties and municipalities, the counties receiving three-fourths of the amount and the cities and towns one-fourth. For the first ten months under the new law, ending March 1, 1926, when a distribution will be made, $1,500,000 will be divided among the counties, and $500,000 among the cities. According to the figures of the auditor of state, each city and town will receive about 25 cents for each inhabitant in the 1920 census. Computations for several cities and towns show that this gasoline item will be the equivalent of a levy of more than one cent, and in some cases more than two cents, on their present valuations.

Governor Jackson emphasized the increased gasoline revenue in a letter sent to every county auditor in the state, in which he asked for the cooperation of local officials in keeping budgets and levies as low as possible.

"It occurs to me," the Governor said, "that the additional revenue

THE "WHITE HOUSE SPOKESMAN" SAYS:

When the "White House Spokesman" speaks the whole world listens.

The President of the United States is perhaps the foremost news producer. What the government is going to do to aid farmers, to collect foreign debts, to reduce taxes—all is news not only along the highways of this nation but also along the byways of every civilized country.

So it is that both side correspondents of American and foreign press associations and newspapers eagerly gather at the press conferences of the President. They are held twice each week whether he is in Washington or, as now, at the summer White House in Swampscott, Mass.

The greatest care is taken to protect the President against erroneous quotation and misinterpretation because his utterances "for guidance" carry tremendous import.

Pat McKenna, for years the doorkeeper at the White House Executive offices passes on each correspondent who seeks to attend the conferences. Secret service men flank the President during the meetings.

Nothing he says can be quoted directly unless he specifically authorizes it. The correspondents submit their questions in writing, in advance of the conferences. The President reads them; ignores those he doesn't wish to consider and answers those he selects for discussion. Thus the President, through the press, speaks to the people and the people, through representative correspondents, question the President that they may learn the government viewpoint on pending issues.

The accompanying pictures reveal United Press correspondents obtaining news from the chief executive. Read their dispatches appearing in this newspaper and keep informed on what the "White House Spokesman" says.

Meeting reporters of the various news organizations is one of the daily tasks of the President of the United States. The upper photo shows President Coolidge meeting newspaper reporters on the lawn at the summer "White House" at Swampscott, Mass. In the center of the group and facing the President is Dale Van Every, United Press Correspondent at Swampscott. Inset is President Coolidge walking with W. J. Losh, manager of the Washington United Press Bureau.

tion will be made, $1,500,000 will be divided among the counties, and $500,000 among the cities. According to the figures of the auditor of state, each city and town will receive about 25 cents for each inhabitant in the 1920 census. Computations for several cities and towns show that this gasoline item will be the equivalent of a levy of more than one cent, and in some cases more than two cents, on their present valuations.

Governor Jackson emphasized the increased gasoline revenue in a letter sent to every county auditor in the state, in which he asked for the cooperation of local officials in keeping budgets and levies as low as possible.

acquiring to the free gravel road fund from the increased gasoline tax should be a reasonable excuse for reducing the county road tax levy unless, by reason of such increased receipts, more miles of highway have been taken over from the townships. In the event many miles of township boards have been turned over to the county system, a reduction in the respective township road levies should be possible."

Referring to the approaching season in which budgets and levies for 1926 will be ratified by taxing officials of every city, town, township, county and school corporation in the state, Secretary Miesse of the taxpayers association said that organized effort by local taxpayers in each community would prevent unwise or improvident expenditure of public funds.

"The results of local organizations were highly satisfactory in 1924," he said. "More than half of the counties in the state reported reductions of budget, and in some cases a substantial decrease in levy."

"The first step is to attend the public hearings which must be held, according to law, before the budget is adopted. Each proposed budget must be published at least ten days before the public hearing. That gives every citizen an opportunity to inform himself about the proposed items of expenditure."

"Attendance of the public hearing is a vital part of the campaign to prevent unwarranted outlays of public money. Taxpayers in every case should inform themselves as completely as possible about the items to which they object, so that they can make a strong presentation of their case."

"The law provides that township levies shall be made at the annual meeting of the advisory board on the first Tuesday in September, while county levies are fixed at the annual meeting of the county councils, which begin on the first Tuesday in September. All other levies are fixed in the first part of that month. Taxpayers in each locality are urged to acquaint themselves with the exact time at which the public hearings on budgets and levies are held, so that they can attend the meetings and present their opposition, if they think any appropriations are excessive or unnecessary."

"Taxpayers should remember that if their appeal for economy and prudent management is disregarded by the local taxing officials, they have a right to appeal to the State Tax Board. The law empowers the state board to review local levies whenever an appeal signed by ten or more taxpayers is filed with it. Numerous reductions in tax, without impairing any essential functions of local government, are obtained by appeal."

"It should be remembered also that the attitude of local taxpayers in presenting their views on budgets and levies to local boards should be one of helpful cooperation with the officials to avoid needless expense. It is well not to assume an attitude of critical opposition or hostility. Most taxing officials feel their responsibility keenly and are desirous of pleasing their constituents. Besides, it is the ambition of nearly every public official to make a record of efficiency and economy in his office and if he finds that the people of his district are asking for reduced taxes, he will do his best, usually, to see that they get their wish. When taxes are increased, and extraordinary expenditures are made, it will be found that usually they result from the sustained campaign of a negligible but organized minority, who make the officials believe that there is a unanimous demand from the people for what they, the minority, want."

BRIGHT PROSPECT FOR WHEAT POOL

B. Dawson, Field Man for Indiana Wheat Growers Association, Checks up in Rush Co.

BIG ESTIMATE THIS YEAR

Expect to Handle Five Million Bushels, Which Will Exceed any Other Agency in Wheat Belt

F. B. Dawson, field representative for the Indiana Wheat Growers' association, was in Rushville Thursday checking over the wheat results in this county, visiting grain dealers, farmers and bankers, expressing the opinion that the wheat pool this year will be even more successful than the 1924 pool.

"In spite of knocks and criticism," he said, "the pooling of farm products for the purpose of better marketing is going forward in a big way. The system is quite a change over the old way and the more it is understood the more it will appeal to the grower of farm products."

The failure of the grain marketing company of Chicago, commonly called "The Grain Merger," has been thought by many, he said, to be the Indiana Wheat Grower's Association, but as a matter of fact the Indiana organization has been opposed to the Chicago firm, and feels that a victory has been won, he said.

The Indiana Wheat Growers Association in starting the 1925 pool estimate that they will handle approximately 5,000,000 bushels of wheat this year. This amount will be much more than any other one agency will handle in the soft wheat belt. The Wheat Pool this year will be a big factor in the wheat market.

At harvest time last year the average price paid for wheat by the local elevators was about $1.00 a bushel. From that time on the price gradually rose, reaching a peak of $2.00 a bushel the latter part of January. The price held about ten or twelve days and then broke so rapidly that by the middle of February it was 40 cents below the peak. Holding at that figure for a few days the market rose about 20 cents only to slump rapidly until it was 70 cents below the peak. During the months of March and April the price was low compared with former prices.

Mr. Dawson commented as follows:

"When the farmer comes to realize that co-operative marketing means orderly marketing, and orderly marketing with sufficient quantity of the product under control means established prices; he will then see the reason for marketing co-operatively. It looks as if something should be done to stabilize prices and co-operative marketing is the best thing worked out so far. It is the high average price year in and year out that benefits the farmer."

President Coolidge in his address at the International Live Stock Exposition, said, "The principle of co-operation in producing, financing, buying, and marketing must be encouraged to the utmost practical development. The government must encourage orderly and centralized marketing as a substitute for the haphazard and wasteful distribution methods of the past. To bring relief as early as possible there must be close attention and well directed study of marketing. As regards co-operative marketing, an astonishing measure of progress has been made in recent years."

"The first year's operations of the Indiana Wheat Growers Association has established the co-operative marketing of wheat in the state on a sound basis," he said. "In the face of unusual market conditions the pool has paid to its members a price per bushel well above the harvest time average, and as far as investigations reveals, well above the general state average. With greatly increased volume already insured for the 1925 pool, and with the problems that always are to be met in pioneering solved, there appears no reason why the 1925 pool should not be even more successful than the 1924 pool.

"The price of $1.40 a bushel obtained by the Indiana pool for its members' wheat was obtained" by following the principles of co-operative marketing: or orderly marketing. Orderly marketing involves the marketing of a crop evenly over the year, thus preventing glut and meeting the market demands as they arise. Orderly marketing may never bring to the grower what is popularly known as the "peak" price, by the same token, it is likely that the average price for the season seldom will be as low as the harvest time price, which is the price at which most of the growers sell their products," he said.

Where the Earth Opened

A number of mysterious cave-ins of land in Birmingham, Ala., have got the citizens all on edge. Here is a picture of one, where the ground opened and let a double garage, a coal shed and a large tree sink down into a hole. Scientists believe there are subterranean cavities under the city, and say the drainage of water from these cavities causes the settling.

T. B. TEST SHOWN TO BE VERY ACCURATE

Federal Records on 1,400,000 Cattle Disclose a Reliability of 99.75 Per Cent

WHEN IT IS PROPERLY MADE

Results Obtained Also Have to be Correctly Interpreted—Dependability Questioned

"We may conclude, that the tuberculin test, so far as its reliability depends on so-called 'no-lesion' tuberculin reactions, is 99.75 per cent perfect when it is properly made and when the results obtained with it are correctly interpreted." This is the conclusion of Dr. E. C. Schroeder, of the U. S. Bureau of Animal Industry, following a study of detailed official records on tuberculin testing. In his capacity as superintendent of the bureau's veterinary experiment station, Doctor Schroeder has conducted many investigations on tuberculosis of livestock and is a national authority on the subject.

In the application of the tuberculin test to the present systematic eradication of tuberculosis from livestock, questions concerning the reliability of the test naturally have arisen. The work has gone forward under widely varying conditions and post-mortem results have ranged all the way from generalized cases showing extensive infection to others showing very small lesions or none at all. Especially in those cases where animals diagnosed as reactors failed to show visible lesions of the disease on post-mortem examination, there have been local doubts concerning the reliability of the test.

On the other hand, widespread popularity of tuberculin testing—as shown by long waiting lists and thousands of herds freed from the disease—is evidence of satisfaction and confidence among most cattle owners. Such confidence is further supported by the recent findings of Doctor Schroeder. In two Wisconsin counties, 51,679 cattle were tested with tuberculin and among those that reacted 123 failed to show visible signs of tuberculosis when slaughtered. This means that among 420 cattle tested, only one reacted without showing evidence of the disease to account for the reaction. A study of the reported no-lesion tuberculin reactions among 1,433,169 cattle tested in all States during March and April of this year gives approximately the same proportion, or one nolesion reacting animal among every 400 tested. This work represents official testing in the tuberculin-eradication campaign conducted cooperatively by the various States and the Federal Government.

The chargeable error of a quarter of 1 per cent against the tuberculin test is further reduced by the results of microscopic and biological tests. A large proportion of the cattle in this fraction—of a per cent reveal true, incipient, undeveloped cases of tuberculosis. In many, if not in most instances, these cattle would have developed clearly visible signs of tuberculosis. In other words, the so-called no-lesion cattle would before long have become dangerous spreaders of tubercle bacilli had the cattle been allowed to live.

Reports from field stations of the Federal Bureau of Animal Industry show that the views of Doctor Schroeder are in close harmony with independent observations made by other officials, experienced in the work. In several Western States a large portion of tuberculous infection is evident chiefly in skin lesions. In skinning such carcasses the butcher's knife frequently encounters gritty spots—sometimes smaller than a pea—which are true lesions of tuberculosis, the grit being a mineral deposit commonly found along with a cheesy accumulation of the tubercle bacilli. "Curiously, after the carcass has been skinned," Dr. F. E. Murphy, inspector in charge of the Salt Lake City office of the bureau, said in commenting on the subject, "it is almost impossible to find such lesions either on the hide or on the carcass even on the closest inspection. Yet the characteristic grit reveals them during the skinning process. By inducing the butchers to cooperate with us in calling attention to inspectors to such skin lesions, the proportion of reported no-lesion cases has greatly declined. I am satisfied that when an animal reacts to the tuberculin test, it is tuberculous though even a most searching inspection may not always disclose the whereabouts of the disease, owing to the bulk of the carcass. In other words, with increasing experience we find that the tuberculin test is more sensitive and more accurate than human ability to find the germs which cause the reaction. Yet, as Doctor Schroeder has found, even a small lesion may soon become large and a serious source of danger to the afflicted animal and the rest of the herd."

Man Postpones His Funeral

"I am 66 years old and for past two years have been suffering so badly from stomach and liver troubles, bloating and colic attacks that I did not expect to live more than a few months and was arranging my affairs and even my funeral. Three doses of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy have entirely cured me. It is a simple harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. For sale by druggists everywhere. —Advertisement—tirely free from tuberculosis and only one among them had reacted, by using the erroneous method of estimating the percentage of no-lesion reacting cattle, the one reacting animal could have been a 100 per cent charge against the reliability of the test.

The net result of the bureau's study of so-called no-lesion cases appears to enhance the value and reliability of the tuberculin test as a means of detecting tuberculous infection even when only slightly present in an animal. Usually there is an ample number of visible lesions to satisfy persons who may be skeptical. But even where careful inspection fails to reveal the disease, the evidence still points strongly to the animal as a menace to other livestock and to humans.

MOVIE NOTES

Music at The Princess
Coney Island, The Bowers, Pol- and, England, Germany, Fifth Ave- nue, and Michigan serve as the back grounds for Constance Tal- madge's latest comedy, "The Gold- fish" a First National picture which will be shown at the Princess thea- tre today.

Miss Talmadge has four husbands and two would-be husbands. Jack Mulhall as a Coney Island song plugger makes love to Constance in Bowers' role.

Jean Hersholt blubbers his love in a Hoboken accent. William Conklin in a boiled shirt and Harvard accent shows Constance the Fifth Avenue style of love-making.

Edward Connelly as Count Nev- ski of Warsaw scatters Polish dia- lect through his appeals for a little affection. Later Jack Mulhall returns without his Coney Island make-up.

With his rise in the world he has dropped his Bowers "line" and ac- quired a Michigan vocabulary of automobile terms understandable on- ly by an auto salesman.

"The Goldfish" was adapted from the successful stage comedy of the same title by C. Gardner Sullivan.

The Miami Lucky Seven, always very popular with local audiences, will open a two-day engagement at the Princess this evening and will appear Saturday at both matinee and night shows.

"Dream Street" Castle

D. W. Griffith comes to us again with a new production which has been acclaimed a work of art and the most unusual story of symbolic love and romance. This new Grif- fith work is "Dream Street". It will be seen at the Castle theatre today. "Dream Street" has been called a dramatic comedy. The characters were suggested by those of Thomas Burke in his timehouse stories. While they may be from "Gina of China- town" and "The Sign of the Lamp" still these characters are found in all the corners of the world where romance, love and beauty hold sway. They gaze through wistful windows out on their Street of Dreams and one cannot help loving them as they pass along life's high- way amid their tragedies and come- dies of existence.
